

Earth Activist Training

permaculture, activism, and magic: planting the seeds of change

April 29 - May 13, northern California taught by Starhawk & Erik Ohlsen

July 15 - 29, England taught by Starhawk & Penny Livingston-Stark

August 26 - September 9, Missouri taught by Starhawk & Charles Williams

Learn how to create the world you want to live in. EAT combines a full permaculture certification class with earth-based spirituality and practical political know-how.

- Permaculture principles and ethics
- Making spiritual connections with real elements—a “Magic 101” class w/ Starhawk
- Nature awareness; humans’ role as nature at work
- Solutions! urban gardens, organic farming, natural building, bioremediation, greywater systems, ecoforestry, soil-building, watershed restoration...
- Consensus process, community building, facilitation, and conflict resolution
- Planning for big changes: peak oil and global warming
- Creating ritual. Weaving magic into action
- Movement building, strategy, direct action, media
- Breaking the spell of fear, rage, grief, and frustration
- Ways to renew personal energy and find hope for our world

Cost Sliding scale for the two-week residential training is $1100 to $1600 (includes meals and lodging). Work-trade/scholarships and loans detailed on web site—including ideas to “create your own scholarship.”

Deadlines See web site for exact dates. Work-trade applications due roughly two months in advance, regular registration due one month in advance. Late reg is possible if there is room, please inquire first.

To learn more Visit www.earthactivisttraining.org for full details and a downloadable registration form. To have reg mailed to you, leave phone message.

Questions? Contact Mer, EAT coordinator: mer@starhawk.org
707-583-2300, extension 119 (voicemail)

Donate Many of our students need some assistance to attend. Please help shape the future with a contribution to EAT scholarship fund, or an in-kind donation. Your donations can be tax-deductible. See web site, or contact us for details.